POST WHEELER TO RETURN FROM ROME

Charges Against Embassy Secretary That He Misused Italian Courtesies,

INQUIRY AT WASHINGTON

State Department Says Information Came From Some American Abroad.

Special Cable Despatch to TRE SUK.

ROME, Sept. 11.—Post Wheeler, 'Secretary of the American Embassy here, who as a diplomat is not allowed to talk, admits, however, that he is going to Washington to make a report to the State Department.

It is believed here that the story that Mr. Wheeler had abused the diplomatic exemption from customs duties is without foundation. Moreover, Ambassador O'Brien cabled the State Department nearly a week ago denying the story of the misuse of gasolene for an automobile.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Charges that Post Wheeler, Secretary of the American Embassy at Rome, has been guilty of abuses of the customs courtesles extended to him as an officer of the American diplomatic service by the Italian Government have been presented to the State Department. These charges have been brought by an American, whose name is being kept secret.

At the State Department to-night it was denied that Mr. Wheeler had been summoned home to answer these charges. It was said that the Department has not yet determined upon any course in regard to the allegations against Mr. Wheeler. to the allegations against Mr. Wheeler, They decline to divulge the details. An investigation, it was said, will certainly be made, as the Department considers the charges as such a serious reflection upon Mr. Wheeler as a diplomatic officer that it feels bound to establish the truth about

According to the information laid before the State Department Mr. Wheeler's conduct in regard to the customs courtesies allowed him by the Italian Government have been common talk among the legations of Rome for a long time. It was explained that it is the custom of all Governments to accord to discount the custom of all Governments to accord to diplomats stationed in or passing through their countries exemption from payment of any duties on whatever dutiable articles may be within their baggage. In fact, diplomats are exempted from the usual examination of baggage, according to the prac-tically universal custom. It is added, however, that there may have been personal animus in the charges that have been laid before the Department and the Department is moving slowly.

Both Post Wheeler and his wife, the former Halbe Erminie Rives, are well known in this city, the former as a nov-elist, poet and journalist, and the latter as novelist. Mrs. Wheeler, in her auto-biography in Who's Who in America, says she is a cousin of the former Amelie Rives, who divorced John Chaloner, and is now who divorced John Chaloner, and is now the Princess Troubetzkoy.

Mrs. Wheeler was born in Christian county. Kentucky, in 1878. Her third book, written in New York in 1896, was "Smoking Flax," and it brought her such undesirable criticisms that she became ill. It dealt with the lynching problem in the South. Cther books by Mrs. Wheeler are South. Other books by Mrs. Wheeler are "As the Hart Panteth," "Hearts Cour-ageous" and "Satan Sanderson."

Mr. Wheeler was born in Owego, N. Y., in 1869, and was the son of the Rev. Henry Wheeler, a well known clergyman and author, and of Mary Sparkes Wheeler, an author and educator. Mr. Wheeler was graduated from Princeton in Wheeler was graduated from Princeton in 1891. He spent much time among the Tukudh Indians on the Arctic regions, and wrote a great deal concerning them. In 1906 he was appointed second secretary of the American Embassy at Tokio, and the same year married Miss Rives in Tokio. He remained in the Far East for three years and was then transferred to three years, and was then transferred to St. Petersburg, to be secretary of the embassy. In 1910 Mr. Wheeler was in secretary to the embassy in

JOHN AIRD & CO. TO DISSOLVE. Head of the British Engineering Firm Will Retire.

Special Cable Despatch to Tam Sun.

London, Sept. 12.—The firm of John Aird & Co., which is very prominent among engineers, will shortly cease to exist because of the retirement of Sir John Aird. Aithough the firm is chiefly associated with the construction of the Nile dams at Assouan and Assiout, it has been identified in more than half a century with some of the biggest public works in the world, including the Manchester Ship Canal and many docks and railroads. Its discontinuance was ascribed to the fact that while the risks in such business were never greater, the profits are far less than they were twenty or thirty years ago.
